Which classic stallions still produce Group winners with good stats?

By Duane Ranger

They might be stallion and racing giants of yesteryear but Richard Camilleri will tell you that Falcon Seelster (USA) and Live Or Die (USA) are still producing – and with good success.

“They sire good racehorses despite less opportunities with top mares and smaller foal crops."

Falcon and Live Or Die were phenomenal racehorses who broke world records by sometimes big margins. Imagine their times with our advanced sulkies, tracks and technology? Falcon paced a world record 1:51 winning by the length of the straight. From the death seat, Live Or Die paced a 2yo world record 1:51.8.

2018 Group winners Cruz Bromac 1:50.1 and Ellmers Image 1:50.7 were the result of mares bred from frozen Falcon Seelster semen, a few years after his death in 2011. Proof that the genetics from these world class stallions can continue. Falcon Seelster rates 61 per cent winners to starters from his Australian progeny.

Live Or Die bred first crop of mares from frozen semen in the 2017/18 breeding season. His standouts over the years have claimed eight Derby victories and 18 Group One races and they include the pacing millionaires Divisive (Miracle Mile and three time Derby winner), Just An Excuse (two NZ Cups) and Bondy (Victoria Cup). Those currently racing include Franco Rayner 1:50, $221,346, Expressionist 1:50.3, $239,962 and Simple Saver 1:52.2 $283,894.

Live Or Die's broodmare sire credits are just as impressive and include 2018 3YO Breeders Crown champion Ride High, world champion millionaire race-mare Shartin and triple New Zealand Cup winner Terror To Love $2,377,125. Live Or Die rates 71 per cent winners to starters from his Australian progeny.

"These sires have real sire stamina to keep on producing juveniles right through to grand circuit performers. They stand the test of time and have ranked top 20 sires for 14 consecutive years across Australia and NZ. They're proven out-cross sires with remarkable success at upgrading pedigree's and crossing with so many different breeding lines."

Falcon Seelster and Live Or Die are now registered as NSW stallions and so their progeny are NSW bred which makes them eligible for the rich NSW BREEDERS CHALLENGE futurities.
